

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
COLLEGE OF MEDICINE TUCSON
Psychiatry

Psychiatry Grand Rounds

Wed, Sept. 2 @ Noon - 1 p.m.

Implications of a Neuropsychiatric Approach to Trauma-Informed Care for System-Wide Equity-Focused Clinical Services

Online via Zoom

Nomi Levy-Carrick, MD, MPhil

Vice Chair, Clinical Services, Mass General Brigham
Department of Psychiatry
Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, Harvard Medical School

Learning Objectives:

1. Identify barriers to optimizing health and engagement in healthcare services for those who have experienced trauma.
2. Understand the neuropsychiatric basis for trauma-informed care.
3. Recognize the difference between trauma-informed and trauma-focused care, and implications for clinical services.

The educational objective for Psychiatry Grand Rounds is to provide mental health professionals with updates on psychiatric topics with the goals of increasing knowledge, competence, and patient care. Psychiatry Grand Rounds are held on Wednesdays (September-May) from 12 to 1 p.m.

Accessibility for All:

We are happy to help make these presentations accessible to all! If you need an accessibility accommodation, such as a sign language interpreter, please reach out to Jamie at jimanser@arizona.edu or 520-874-4148. We kindly ask for notification as early as possible to ensure we can best assist. Thank you for your interest in our presentations.

Accreditation Statement:

The University of Arizona College of Medicine – Tucson is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Arizona College of Medicine - Tucson designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Relevant Financial Relationships Statement(s):

University of Arizona College of Medicine - Tucson Office of Continuing Medical Education adheres to the ACCME's Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education. Any individuals in a position to control the content of a CME activity, including faculty, planners, reviewers or others are required to disclose all financial relationships with ineligible entities (commercial interests). The CME office reviewers have nothing to disclose. All relevant financial relationships have been mitigated prior to the commencement of the activity.

| Name                         | Role in Activity          | Nature of Relationship / Name of ineligible company                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|------------------------------|---------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Jordan F. Karp, MD           | Activity Director         | Grant or research support; Janssen (Any division); Advisor; Alkermes Health (Relationship has ended); Membership on Advisory Committee or Review Panels, Board Membership, etc.; Biogen (Relationship has ended); Advisor; Otsuka America Pharmaceutical, Inc.; Advisor; Janssen (Any division); (Relationship has ended); Advisor; Otsuka America Pharmaceutical, Inc. (Relationship has ended) - 09/08/2025 |
| Derek Paul, MD               | Planning Committee Member | Nothing to disclose - 10/24/2025                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Nomi Levy-Carrick, MD, MPhil | Presenter                 | Nothing to disclose - 08/05/2026                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |